The Hoard of Cool Websites

80 cool sites that will either entertain,
help or damn right piss you off.
You decide.

What happens when you Google “Cool websites”?

We'll tell ya.
You get blasted
with a ton of blogs
that, in some circumstances, do give you cool sites but that's it. Once you've gone through the list, what else is there for you to do?

That's where we, the Bored Hoard make our grand entrance.

Instead of exploring a list of sites that aren't to your liking or mood, you can Hoard cool websites you actually want and like. We don't stop there though...

The sites you'll explore with us are not easily found on Google. That means you'll be the first to try out cool unknown sites.

Every Friday, we deliver a new online box of fresh websites that you'll absolutely love, or find completely and utterly useless.

We'll also keep you updated with new box releases, giveaways and witty blogs that are more sarcastic than your mother in law.

Ehehe

When you become a Hoarder, you'll have access to these small but mighty perks

Save your favourite sites

Create a list of your favourite sites so they're easy to find when you're looking for inspiration or something to do during another Zoom call.

Filter by categories

Categories make it easier for you to find what you're looking for. We have nine in total, from things to Watch to games to Play, it's all there.

Make your voice heard

Think a particular site is shite? Then tell us! By leaving reviews you'll be helping your fellow hoarders understand what's cool or just plain useless.

57 | Storylocks

Someone (maybe you) starts a story by setting the scene and the background. Your story is then sent out into the community for an author to write the next chapter of your story in the way they think it should play out. Once they are done, the same thing happens again and the next chapter is offered up to a new author until the story is finished.

Visit Storylocks →

58 | FutureMe

Well, we mean to plan ahead for the future, in the present and not live life in the past...makes sense? Good. Right so basically what you do here is write yourself a letter for the future you. Express what you want to achieve by a certain date, list your goals or hopes, maybe even try and predict what the future will look like.

Visit FutureMe →

59 | Replika

What if we told you that you could have someone to confide in, talk about your day and vent to when it's been a shitty one? Now you might be thinking you've got your partner for that, or you might in fact consider yourself as a lone ranger. Well now, that all changes with Replika, an AI bot that is always there to listen and talk.

60 | Dumpster Fire

Lets face it, 2020 has been an awful year. We've been locked away, forced to spend more time than we should with family and friends, and of course the dreaded "You're on mute" humiliation in the Zoom meeting. Well folks, sometimes the best thing you can do is write your thoughts down, then BURN them!

Visit Dumpster Fire

61 | The Magic Pod

If you want to become a DJ, but you just can't be bothered to buy all that equipment, then just use this site. They provide some classic tunes from the 2000's that let's you merge them into one song to blast out an instant mash-up, good enough to get any party in full swing. The only task you need to do is drag and drop the songs.

Visit The Magic Pod

62 | Inkhunter

Thinking of getting a new tattoo, or maybe never had one before? Well the first thing you should do is stop the fuck there. Yeah, you heard us. A tattoo is a big commitment, you don't want something on your body for the rest of your life that you despise, you probably have enough of that with your partner already.

Visit Inkhunter

63 | These Lyrics Don't Exist

Just like Britney Spears, you might need a bit of help writing your own lyrics (and singing). If the best you can create is on par with Twinkle Twinkle Little Star, then you're in need of a little push and a bit of inspiration. Choose a topic based on the emotion you're going for and select a genre, you'll soon get a lyric sheet giving you a whole song to perform.
